

Texts: Aya Ben Ron
Music: Binya Reches & Shira Yasur

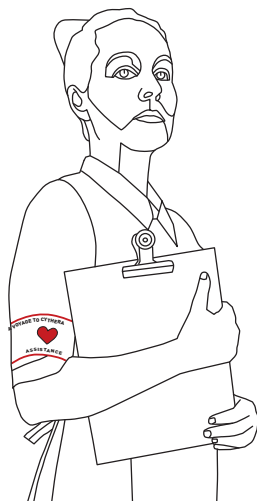

1. La La La

The Voyage To Cythera has several stations
 At each one I'll present a medical situation.
 I'm not a real nurse and Medicine is just an excuse
 To combine together care and abuse.
 Look at the horizon - it is all clear
 Now the unspeakable will appear.

2. Letting Yourself

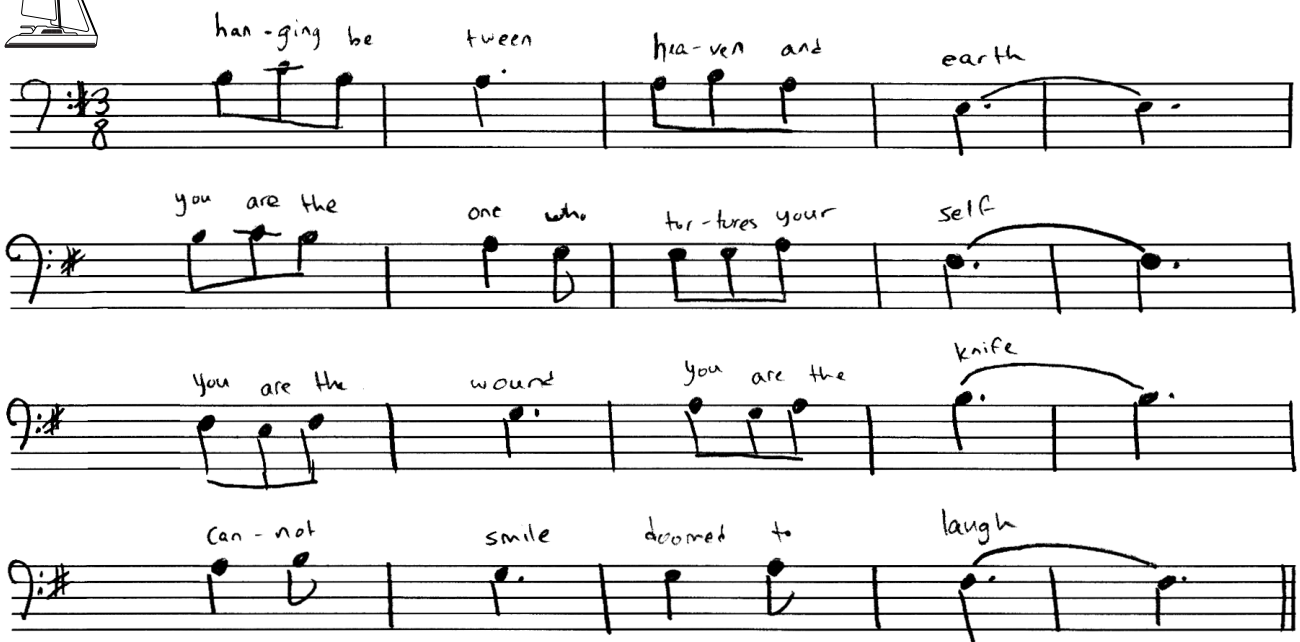

Letting yourself be consistently deceived
 Will cause your mind to get lost
 Sticking with the horrific truth
 Relatively has no cost.

3. Hanging

Hanging between heaven and earth
 You are the one who tortures yourself
 You are the wound - you are the knife
 Cannot smile - doomed to laugh.

4. If Someone

If someone tears your body apart
 There is one thing you can always do
 Split yourself into two personalities
 And let the stronger one help you.

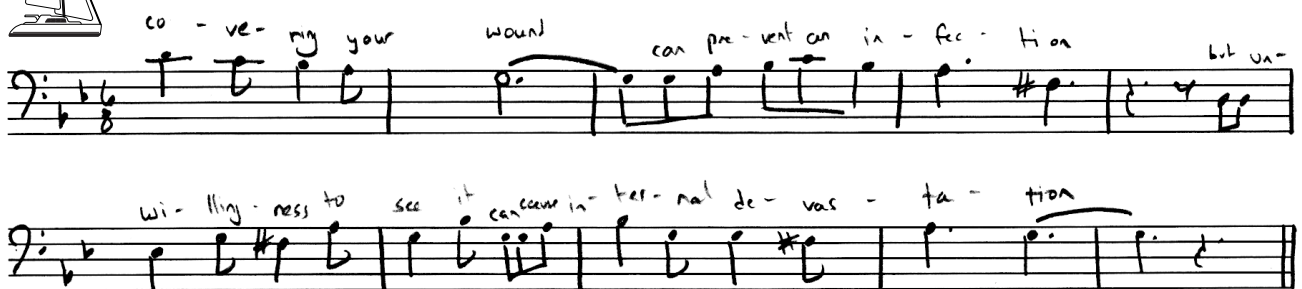

Handwritten musical notation for the song "If Someone". The notation is written on four staves, each corresponding to a line of the lyrics. The lyrics are written above the notes. The notation includes treble clefs, a key signature of one flat (B-flat), and a 3/8 time signature. The notes are simple, using quarter and eighth notes, with some slurs and ties. The lyrics are: "If some-one tears your bo-dy a-part", "there is one thing you can al-ways do", "Split your self in-to two per-so-na-li-ties", and "And let the stron-ger one help you".

5. Covering

Covering your wound
Might prevent an infection
But unwillingness to see it
Will cause internal devastation.

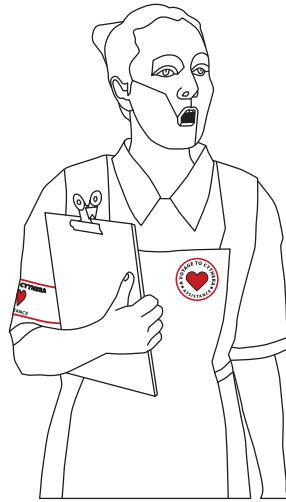

6. You Are lost

You are lost in a wounded body and soul
 Yearning to be safe and whole
 Surrounded by those who seem to care
 But are trapped in their own despair.

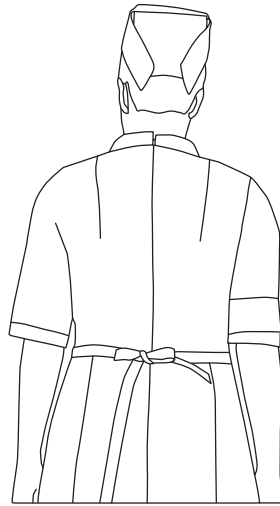

7. In Order

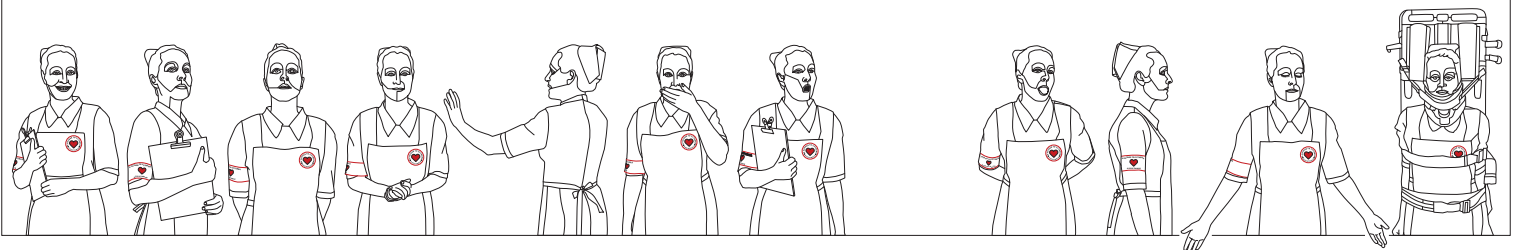

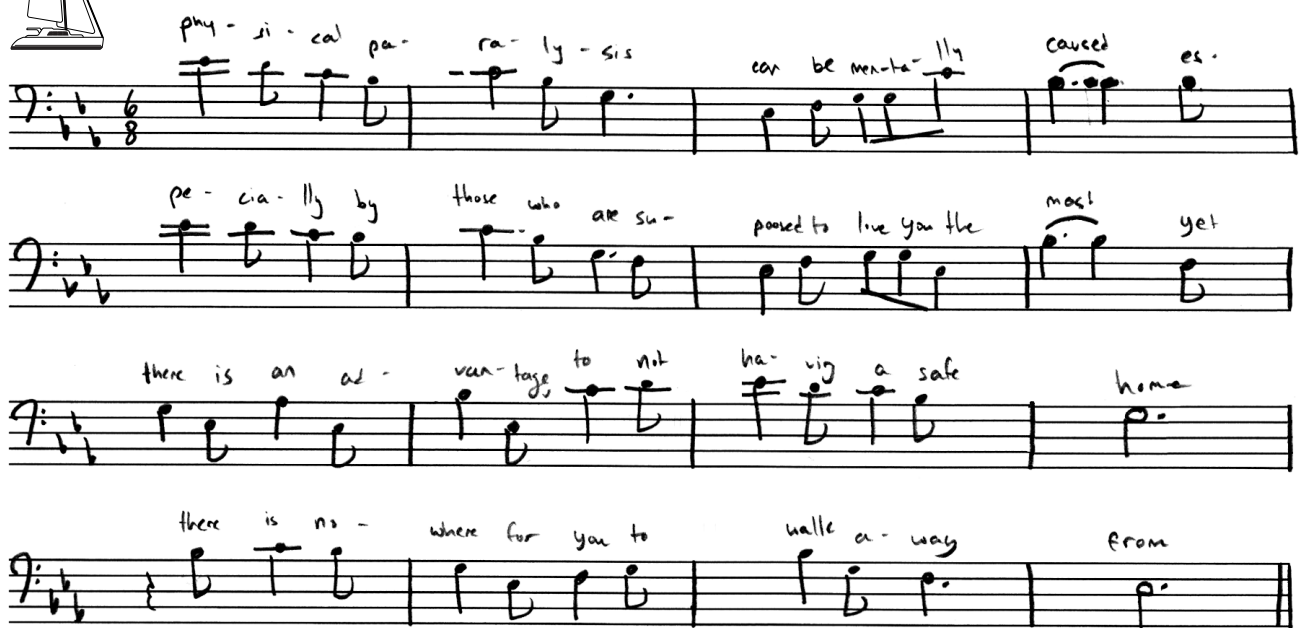

In order not to remember
That the one who takes care of you
Is also the offender
Unconsciousness is required.
To obtain that sort of relief
You need to unconditionally retire.

8. Physical Paralysis

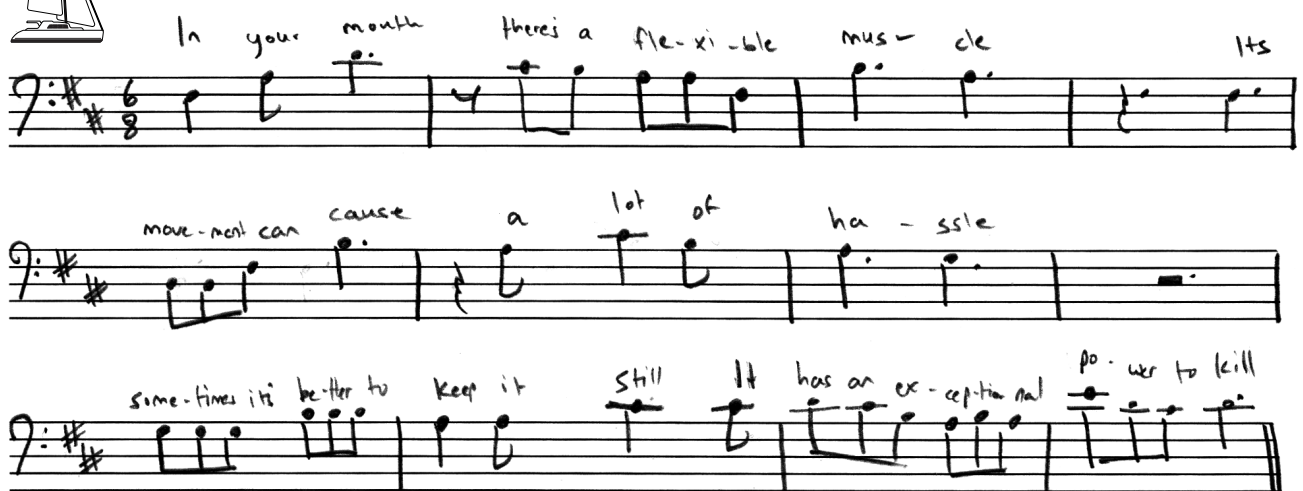

Physical paralysis can be mentally caused
 Especially by those who are supposed to love you the most.
 Yet there is an advantage to not having a safe home
 There is nowhere for you to walk away from.

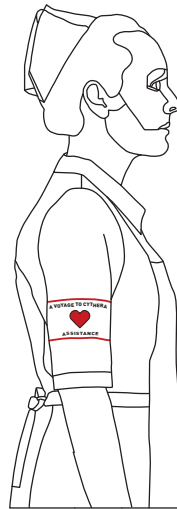

9. In Your Mouth

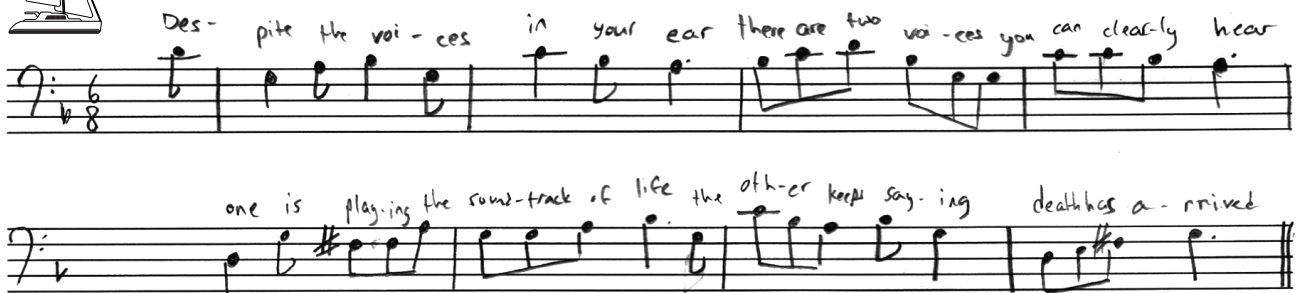

In your mouth there's a flexible muscle
 Its movement can cause a lot of hassle
 Sometimes it's better to keep it still
 It has an exceptional power to kill.

10. Despite The Noises

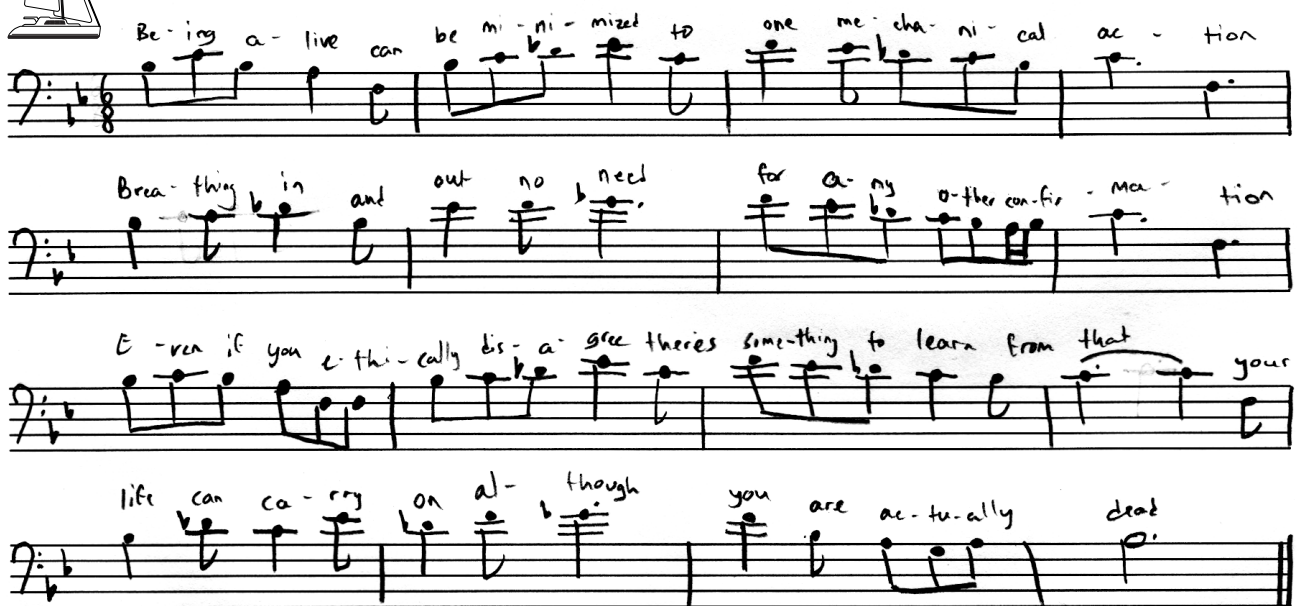

Despite the noises in your ear
There are two voices you can clearly hear
One is playing the soundtrack of life
The other keeps saying death has arrived.

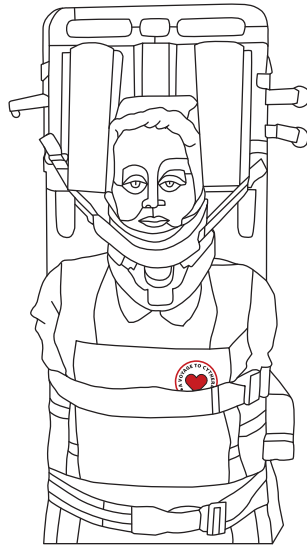

11. Being Alive

Being alive can be minimised
 To one mechanical action
 Breathing in and out
 No need for any other confirmation.
 Even if you ethically disagree
 There's something to learn from that
 Your life can carry on
 Although you are actually dead.

12. The Stretcher

The stretcher's stripes will keep you tight
and limit your ability to fight
If you will not release the ties
You will be rescued till you die.

